The organizing secretary of the program was Dr.A.S.Dahat (Assistant professor and head of the department of Botany) and joint secretary was Prof. J.R.Pande (Assistant professor of Botany) the inaugural function of the E-Seminar was held at 10:30 a.m. The anchoring of the entire program was done by Dr.Vijay khadse (Head department of English). The introduction of guests and welcome speech was delivered by Dr. A. S. Dahat, the chief guest for the inauguration session, was Dr. J.A.Tidke (Ex V.C. and Ex. Prof. and Head of Dept. Botany) Sant Gadge baba Amravti University Amravti and the President of this program was Dr. H.R.Verulkar (Principal Arts, Commerce and Science college Arvi), our guest of the program, Dr. J.A.Tidke appreciated the organizer and explained that they could argue against the design ability of sustainable development and development which provides for the legitimate needs of the present generation without compromising the ability of generations to meet their own needs. He also explained it is needed for them to propose environmental education with the essential elements of moral philosophy. The chairperson of the program, Dr. H.R.Verulkar Sir emphasizes environmental education as a fundamental role to play in motivating people to teach environmentally friendly practices. He also explains how people act in an appropriate way with awareness of the problems and their causes.

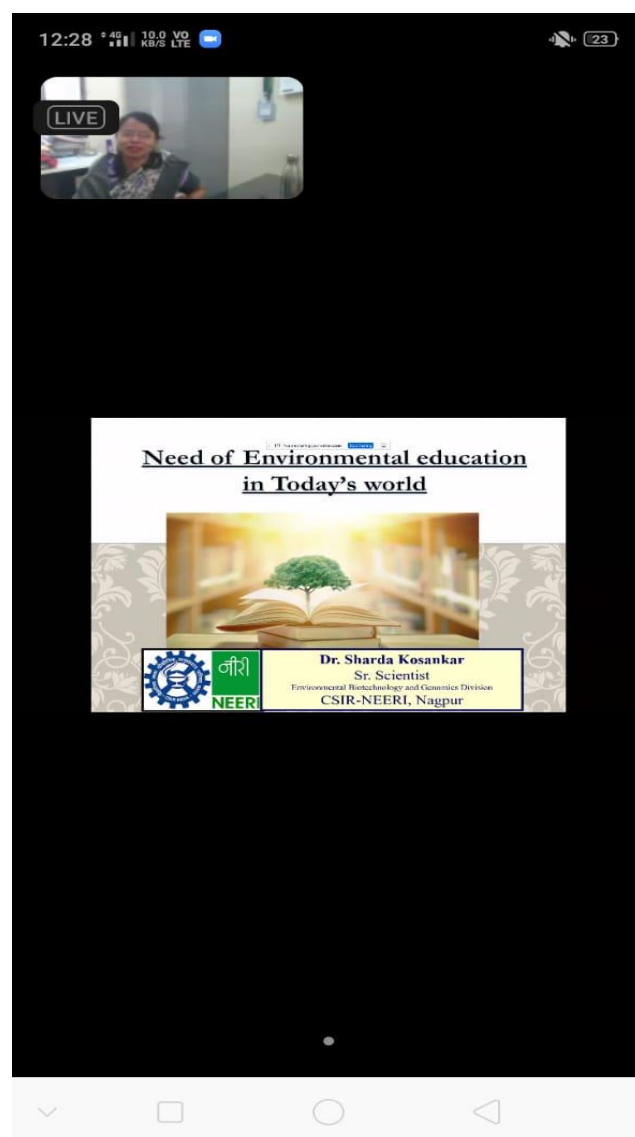

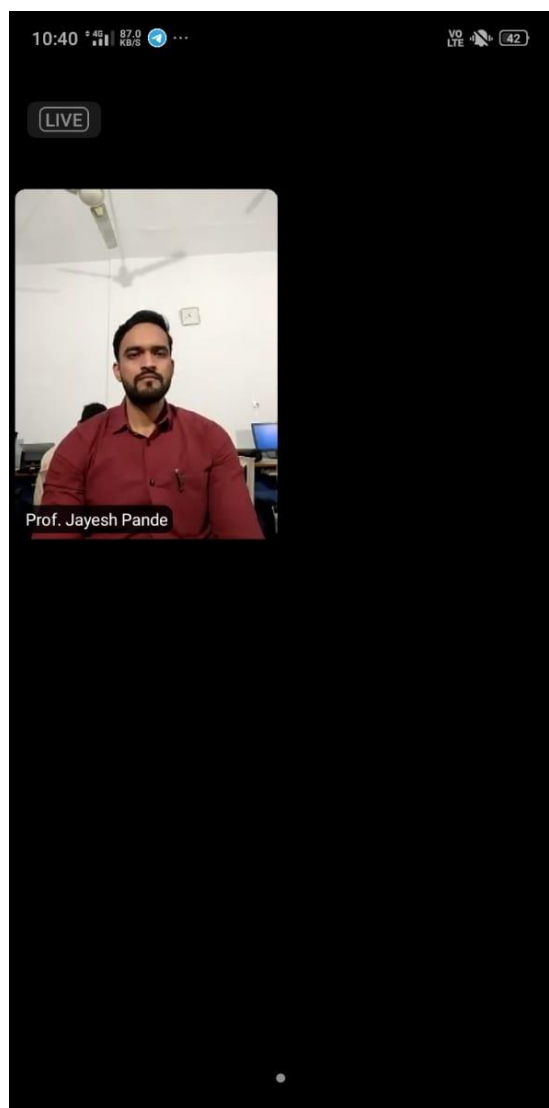

Ist Technical session

The speaker of the first technical session was Dr. R. R. Khapekar (Assistant professor and head of department of Botany D.R.B. Sindhu College, Pachpavali Nagpur). The introduction of the speaker was given by Dr. A.S. Dahat. The first technical session was chaired by Dr. M.G. Thakare (Assistant professor and head of department of environmental science, Arts, Commerce and Science College, Tukum). The introduction of chairperson was given by Dr. Neeraj Kendhe (Department of English). The speaker, Dr. R.R. Khapekar, shared his details and explained very well about the importance of environmental education and the role of different stakeholders in Environmental Protection. He also explained the moral and ethical education for changing people's attitude to motivate people to conserve resources, protect the environment and avoid extravagance. The chairperson of the session, Dr. M.G. Thakre, emphasized that many problems concerning the environment and the biosphere are simply there because so many people contribute little bits and pieces to it, all of which put together assume enormous dimensions.

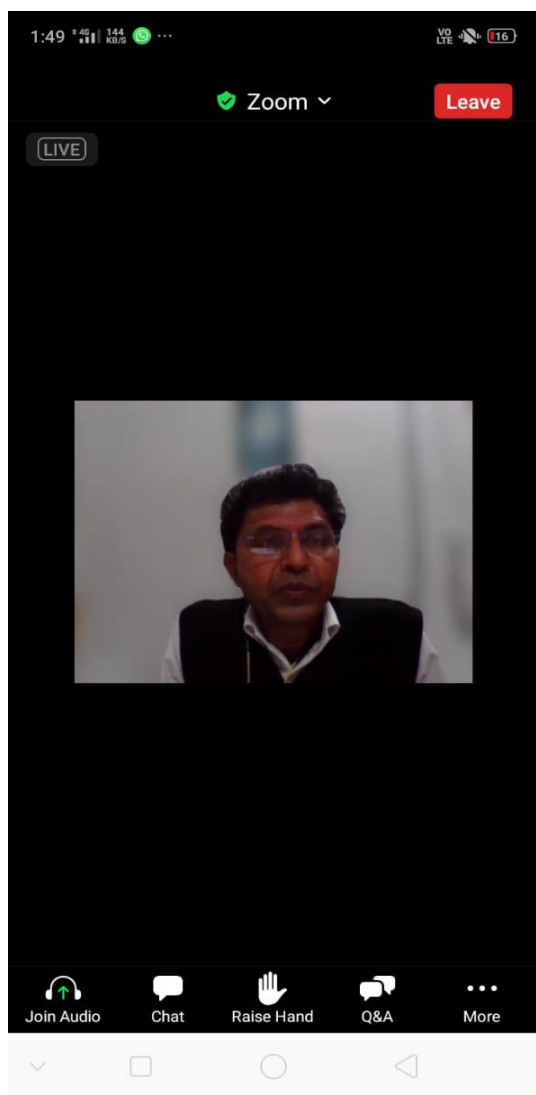

IInd Technical session

The speaker for the IInd technical session was Dr.Sharda Kosankar (senior scientist CSIR-NEERI, Nagpur). The introduction of the speaker was given by Dr. Anup Gumble (Department of English). The chairperson of the second technical session was Dr.O.S. Deshmukh (Principal Arts and Science College chikhali district Buldhana) and the introduction of chairperson was given by Prof. J.R.Pande (Department of Botany), the speaker, Dr. Sharda Kosankar explains the need for environmental education in today's world. She enlightened. However, a proper awareness of the problems related to the wildlife and ecosystem's degradation and conservation is lacking. Even among many illiterate people of our society, a number of environmentally damaging activities could be stopped simply by providing adequate understanding of the consequences in wall to the people who indulge in such activity. The chairperson of this session, Dr. O.S.Deshmukh emphasizes environmental education should have a faster positive pattern of conduct towards the use of natural resources. He also explains the need for time is to preserve the normal functioning of the man-dominated natural ecosystem in a healthy state.

Valedictory function

The chief guest of the valedictory function was the honorable Dr. Pallavi Jamwal (Assistant professor department of higher education government college for women Jammu and Kashmir) and this session was chaired by Dr.N.M. Dongarwar (Professor and head of department of Botany RTMNU Nagpur), The introduction of chief guest was given by Dr.M.S.Bhoyar (Department of Zoology) and introduction of chairperson Dr. N.M. Dongarwar was introduced by Dr.A.S.Dahat, the chief guest, Dr. Pallavi Jamwal explained that millions of the so-called backward people in tropical and subtropical regions of the world hardly need any environmental education. Most of the local people, natives and tribes, have an intimate knowledge of nature, wildlife and their environment. The chairperson, Dr.N.M.Dongarwar, appreciated the organizer for arranging the national level E-Seminar, which is very important for ordinary men in rural areas. He emphasizes all the detailed information about environmental education. Lastly, Prof.J.R.Pande proposed a vote of thanks to all the guest speakers, chairperson and all the staff of the college who co-operated this national E-seminar for the success.
